

Rather than offering individual starters and main courses,
The Brahmin serves dishes that are designed for sharing among friends and are brought to the table steadily and continuously throughout the meal.

We've named some of our menu items after the most prominent family members of the “Boston Brahmins.”

The Boston Brahmin are members of Boston's traditional upper class. They form an integral part of the historic core of the East Coast establishment. They are often associated with the distinctive Boston Brahmin accent, Harvard University, and traditional customs and attire.

Descendants of the earliest English colonists, such as those who came to America on the Mayflower or the Arbella, are often considered to be the most representative of the Boston Brahmin.
